CITY TAX RATE LOWER DESPITE INCREASE IN STATE-COUNTY TAXES

Tax Levy for City Purposes Is $79,424 Less Than in 1919 Levy.

COUNTY TAXES HIGHER Assessment Rate Is Less Than Last Year in Spite of Many Increases.

CITY TAX RATE (2) col head
Despite sharp increases in state, county and school taxes, and a general increase in the cost of nearly every commodity, Appleton people will pay smaller taxes next January than they did a year ago.

This reduction in the strain on the taxpayers' pocketbooks was made possible through the decrease of the great city economy in preparing the city budget. The levy for Appleton's general fund will be $316,000, a decrease of $79,424 from the 1919 levy, which was $395,424. All other tax levies have been increased, thus cutting down the saving to the taxpayer but the reduction in the city tax is sufficient to more than offset all the other increases and assures a substantial cut in the assessment rate.

The city's share of the tax collection is $12.60 on every $1,000 of valuation. This figure is $5 less than in 1919, a reduction of nearly one third in the city assessment.

The rate for state and county tax and for the county school tax this year is $9.08, as compared with $9.72 a year ago, an increase of $3.72. The high school rate is $6.05 on each $1,000 of property valuation, an increase of $1.49. The common council, which fixed the city rate, has no jurisdiction over the county, state or school taxes.

Neither has the council jurisdiction over the tax rates for the ward schools, all of which are higher than last year. The total increase, however, is not large enough to offset the city saving.

One of the minor factors which entered into this reduction is the money raised in the 1919 levy for the Lawe street bridge and the paving funds. It will be remembered that approximately $92,000 was raised for those two purposes but that neither project was carried out. The mayor's veto killed the bridge proposition and the paving program was abandoned because of the high cost of material. When these two projects were ended the money automatically reverted to the general fund and became available for all city purposes.

Part of the money was used to defray unexpected expenses in the year just ending and some of it is still available. About $40,000 of the fund has already been loaned to the high school and will be returned when the new taxes are collected. The city treasurer holds more than $20,000 in addition, making about $65,000 available. Part of that money will be required to carry the city through until the new taxes are collected but some will be left and that will be used to defray next year's expenses.

The sum remaining, however, is so small that it has little to do with cutting the levy. Increased economy is the principal reason.

WANT ACTION TO SAVE REMAINING N-P LEAGUE BANKS

Another Bank Is Forced to Close Because It Cannot Stand Withdrawals.

By United Press Leased Wire
Bismarck, N. D.—With the closing of a tenth state bank in the western section of the state, bankers today asked for a conference with W. A. Cathro, director of the Bank of North Dakota, in an effort to save the institutions and forestall closing of other banks.

The meeting will be held within a few days. Bankers of the Missouri slope met at Mandan yesterday to discuss the situation. They will ask Director Cathro to try and arrange some way to make the withdrawal of public fund deposits gradual.

The state bank has notified small banks that withdrawals of public funds may commence Dec. 2. No definite amounts for withdrawal have been stated.

The state bank of Mohall was the tenth bank to close. All of the banks closed "temporarily," according to announcements, saying they could not weather heavy withdrawals of public funds. Farmers, it is said, have started "runs" on some banks to withdraw their money and deposit it in the state bank at Bismarck following announcements that the state bank would accept individual deposits. This move was in retaliation for the repeal of the Non-Partisan law requiring deposit of public funds in the state bank. Hereafter the state bank has refrained from accepting individual deposits from residents within the state although it accepted deposits from individuals outside the state.

HERMAN ERB IS SUMMONED BY SUDDEN DEATH

Veteran Banker Dies Suddenly in San Diego, Calif., Late on Tuesday.

BODY IS TO BE CREMATED
Remains Will Be Brought to Appleton for Burial—Lived Here Sixty Years.

Herman Erb, 77 years old, chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank, and one of the best known bankers in the state, died suddenly at his home in San Diego at 5:15 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Information received here did not state the cause of death but it is known that Mr. Erb had not been ill. The veteran banker had been a resident of Appleton since 1861 and had been identified with the banking business all that time.

The decedent was born in Fulda, Germany, October 31, 1843. He came to the United States in 1860, spending a short time in New York, Oshkosh and Milwaukee before settling in Appleton. In 1861 he entered the employ of the old Outagamie County bank and later was identified with the Appleton National Bank and the private banking firm of David Smith and company.

Helped Organize Bank
Mr. Erb was one of the organizers of the First National bank, which came into existence in 1870, just a half century ago. He was the last survivor of the original officers. Mr. Erb was appointed cashier of the institution, holding that position until his election to the presidency in 1908.

When the Commercial National bank was consolidated with the First National last October and in the reorganization which followed, Mr. Erb was elected chairman of the board of directors. His active connection with the bank ceased shortly thereafter and he left last May for California, where two of his children reside, to make his home.

Will Cremate Body
Mr. Erb was married in 1863 in Oshkosh to Josephine Von Kurz who died in 1879. In 1881 he was married again to Julia Stahl who lived until 1911, and last spring he was wedded to Mrs. Mary Frank.

The decedent is survived by his widow and three daughters. They are Mrs. H. B. Thickens and Mrs. Laura P. Scott, both of San Diego, Calif., and Mrs. E. A. Reich of Appleton.

The body is to be cremated in San Diego and the remains will be brought to Appleton for interment. Members of the family will accompany the ashes to Appleton. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

3 KILLED, 2 HURT
IN BOILER BLAST

Creamery Boiler at Stoughton Explodes While It Is Being Tested.

Stoughton, Wis.—Three persons were killed and two others probably fatally injured in the explosion of a boiler at the Stoughton Marketing company plant shortly before noon today.

The dead are: Ernest Martin; farmer; Ferguson, boiler inspector, and an unidentified man.

The injured are: Mrs. Adolph Jacobson, a widow; and a girl bookkeeper.

The tragedy occurred while the boiler was being tested. The entire boiler was blown through the wall of the creamery plant and into the yard of the Stoughton Wagon company plant, 100 yards away. Two of the men, Marvin and Ferguson, were blown past the boiler.

A boilermaker, William Glasse, who was standing near boiler, was blown through the wall and into the coal bin but was only scratched and bruised.

Lower Meat Prices Will Reach Consumers Within Month, Packers Predict

WANT SALARIES TO

COST OF LIVING

Packer Representatives Tell
Arbitrator That All Costs
Are Declining.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Living costs, now on the run, will continue dropping indefinitely, expert witnesses testified today in the supplementary hearing before United States Judge Alschuler on wage demands of 2,000,000 packing house workers.

The hearing was re-opened on contention of the company that wages and living costs are tending downward and blanket increase of $1 a day is no longer justified.

The present price declines are backed by "financial uncertainty, plant closings, lower wages and a general demand for thrift," J. L. Wells, economist witness for the packers, declared.

Wells cited recent statistics of the bureau of labor showing declines in food costs of three per cent in October. Other figures were produced by Wells to prove prices of all essentials have tumbled 5.4 per cent during the last month.

Other witnesses for the packers contended the drop amounted to 10 per cent during the last year on all articles except food and clothing which they said fell thirty per cent. The greatest reductions were made last month, they contended.

Attorneys for the employees agreed the tendency of prices had been downward but argued it was only a mirage and with re-opening of European markets the increased demand would again cause price ascensions similar to those following declines in September, 1919.

The employees' representatives also pointed out the fall in prices has not been reflected in retail markets and the workers have gained no benefit. Instances were cited in the packing industry where the retail figures have advanced with lower wholesale markets.

Articles which have been made cheaper recently still are higher in price than last April, they claimed. Federal Judge Samuel Alschuler, arbitrator of the wage controversy again took the employees' demands under advisement following closing arguments of attorneys today. He gave no indication when his decision would be announced.

Geneva.—Immediate admission of Austria and Bulgaria was recommended to the league of nations assembly today by the commission on membership.

The commission reached favorable decision on the former enemies of the world but withheld recommendations for a number of small European states until conditions are stabilized and recognition has been accorded by nearby powers.

Those states favored for membership in today's report are Austria, Bulgaria, Finland, Albania and Luxembourg.

The petitions of Latvia, Lithuania, Ukraine and Estonia were held over. Affairs in the Baltic region are too chaotic to permit favorable action now, the commission decided.

Can't Disarm Now
Speaking before the sixth commission, Leon Bourgeois, France, declared France cannot disarm until Germany has been compelled to fulfill all conditions of the Versailles treaty.

Before disarming, France will await the report of a military commission which will meet in Geneva to prepare a disarmament plan, he said.

This plan will take into consideration the geographical and special conditions in each country, Bourgeois said.

In order to emphasize the international character of the commission to oversee the Lithuanian plebiscite, the league council has invited the Scandinavian countries to send small detachments of gendarmes.

SINN FEIN PLOTS IN ENGLAND AND ERIN REVEALED BY BRITISH

All Ireland Is Nervous as Shootings and Raids Are Continued.

HUNDREDS ARE ARRESTED
Can't Find Cell Room for All the Prisoners—More Deaths Reported.

By United Press Leased Wire
Dublin.—Swarms of secret service men operated in southern Ireland today. Reports to the Irish office here said evidence of plots of sensational character had been obtained. Plans surpassing the alleged scheme to inculcate infantrymen and cavalry horses with typhoid and glanders germs were said to be among these. Meanwhile all southern Ireland kept a nervous finger on the trigger. Curfew laws were being enforced strictly throughout the territory covered by black and tan police and the constabulary.

Since the Dublin murders, slight warning has been given suspicious characters found abroad at night. Likewise those in the streets in violation of the curfew law are quick to flee.

Disorders reported yesterday and last night occurred at Millstreet where three were reported shot. At Newry, Constable Kearney died last night of injuries sustained Sunday when he was shot from ambush.

At Cork a mysterious explosion in Patrick street injured six persons. Arrests throughout the southern counties have run into large figures. Prisoners here were so numerous cell space could not be found for all.

One more death from the shooting Sunday in Croke Park was reported today. The death list at the park stood at 13.

The bodies of the fourteen men killed in the Sinn Fein raids Sunday forenoon were taken to England today aboard a destroyer.

The Irish office announced officially that the three men killed in attempted escape from Dublin castle yesterday were known to be Sinn Fein leaders. One of them, Peter Clancy, was said to have been involved in the plot to murder Lord French at Phoenix Park. He was arrested with Richard McKee, an officer of the Sinn Fein army and an authority on explosives. An infernal machine constructed to make use of gun cotton was found in their rooms.

Reports at the Irish office here were the roundup of suspects was the biggest yet undertaken by the government. Hotels were commandeered in Dublin and turned over to the soldiers while private houses were searched for men and documents. Even the residence of Archbishop Walsh was searched, police demanding the archbishop's aid.

Hundreds of persons were caught in Dublin when the barb wire cordon was thrown about city. With hotels closed to the public many sought sleep in the streets.

Outside Dublin intensive raids still were in progress. At Bally Longford it was reported firing lasted throughout last night with one civilian killed. Men, described as uniformed, burned a creamery at Duharrow. At Castlereagh where police made a search for suspects, one black and tan was reported killed and three persons wounded.

With discussion of the Dublin tragedy at its height the Irish home rule bill made its appearance in the house of lords. Second reading was moved by Lord Birkenhead. The Earl of Dunraven moved its rejection on the grounds that the bill is not supported by the majority of Irishmen. He declared it "an ignominious honesty" attempt to settle the Irish question. Unionists were reported to have solidified their opposition to the bill because of Dublin's "red Sunday."

NEW LONDON HUNTER

Black Creek.—Lyman Bates of New London was accidentally shot and instantly killed yesterday morning at Thos. Siding, Langlade County by Ted Maas of Black Creek.

The men were hunting deer, but had seen a bear. Bates went forward to drive the animal in the open. Maas advanced and seeing something in the brush, fired. It was Bates. The men were life-long friends, having been classmates at the New London High school a dozen years ago.

MISSING MAN'S AID DECLINES TO TALK

Secretary of Rich Theatrical Man, Missing for Year,
Starts for Canada.

By United Press Leased Wire
Portland, Oregon.—John Doughty today started back to Toronto where he will be asked to explain the disappearance of $100,000 in bonds belonging to Ambrose Small, for whom he acted as private secretary until the mysterious disappearance of Small and Doughty about a year ago.

Doughty left Portland at 9:30 a. m. in the custody of Austin Mitchell, Toronto, detective, who came west when it was reported Doughty was living in Oregon City, near here, under an assumed name.

Regarding a report Doughty confessed having stolen the bonds, detective said: "That is all silly rot."

When Doughty was asked what his defense would be, he replied dramatically: "It is all in the lap of the gods."

So far there is no trace of Small, for whom a search has been in progress on two continents ever since his disappearance nearly a year ago.

Doughty was quoted as having said he last saw Small in a theatre in Canada the night of his disappearance but that he did not know what had become of him.

Upon being informed that Doughty, who disappeared at the same time as Small, had been arrested, Mrs. Small declared she felt renewed hope that her husband would be found or that she would at least learn his fate.

"I still have a belief that Mr. Small is alive," she said.

HARDY'G INSPECTS BIG LOCKS OF PANAMA CANAL

By United Press Leased Wire
Cristobal, Canal Zone.—President-elect Harding today expected to make an inspection trip through the Panama canal. He was to traverse the canal on a mine barge and will be shown the workings of the gigantic locks.

Harding intends to remain at the Pacific end of the canal until Friday. Governor Harding of the canal zone, will entertain the president-elect at dinner tonight. This is to be followed by a public reception at Balboa.

Hundreds of Panamanians, Americans, British West Indians and others, attracted in white suits, filed past Harding and Mrs. Harding at the hotel here last night, shaking hands with them. Afterward the heat of the tropic night was tempered by a plunge in the sea.

FIND AUTO STOLEN
FROM MURDERED MAN

Philadelphia.—The auto stolen from Henry T. Pierce, slain businessman, was found in Wheeling, W. Va., according to information received by the police today.

Detectives have left for that place. The murderers are believed to have escaped in the machine. The woman believed by the police to have some connection with the automobile party which preceded Pierce's death was taken into custody as a witness early today but was later released on her promise to remain within call. Two other women and a man known as "the little peacock," were also held.

The police here now express the belief that the man who beat Pierce to death with a wrench is a former pugilist, residing in New Jersey.

JURY INDICTS 31 RUM SMUGGLERS

Distillery Officials, Gamblers and Others Must Stand Trial.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—"Mike de Pike" Heiter and thirty others, alleged members of the largest booze ring operating in the country, were indicted by the federal grand jury here today on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

Among those indicted were six Chicago police sergeants.

O. H. Walther and W. D. Knebelkamp, officials of the Old Granddaddy distillery of Louisville, were also accused in the indictment.

Practically all of the others charged with conspiracy were Chicago saloonkeepers.

The alleged conspirators planned to transport 1,000 cases of whiskey from the Walther warehouse at Hobbs, Ky., to Chicago, via Peoria, Ill., federal officials claim.

Judge Landis granted injunctions closing eight of Chicago's largest cabarets on petition of District Attorney Clyne.

Action was taken against the resorts as public nuisances. Clyne claimed the Volstead act was being violated in the places.

Knebelkamp is owner of the Louisville American Association baseball club.

SEEK ENACTMENT OF BLUE
LAWS IN UNITED STATES

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Strict Sunday law prohibiting theaters, professional sports and business of any sort will be introduced in from 31 to 35 state legislatures this winter, the Lord's Day Alliance announced today.

The bills, according to Dr. Harry Bewley, secretary of the alliance, are based on patriotism as well as religion. The alliance through them serves notice, he said, that no race nor corporation can inflict a continental Sunday on America.

Dr. Bewley said there is no intention of suppressing necessary business. Sports, the movies, automobile, candy and tobacco stores—anything serving to divert attention from the home or religion on Sunday would be tabooed.

CAGERS TO START WORK NEXT WEEK

Basketball Practice in High School and College Attracts Big Squads.

Preparations for the basketball season, which opens about December 1, will be started next week by the college and high school mentors. Coach McCleskey of the college squad has had one meeting with prospective cage players and will begin practice next week. Coach Vincent of the high school team also expects to get started in a few days and by the end of next week the teams will be on their way toward some more championships.

Both mentors will have large squads to work with. Not less than thirty college men have announced they will try for the team and more than fifteen high school boys are ambitious for chances to get on the regular squad.

Schedules are now being arranged and will be made public within a few weeks. Games already scheduled indicate that both teams will play some of the strongest schools in this section.

chants' association here next August. The purpose of the meeting was to test the feeling of the grocers and wholesalers of the city, with reference to the convention. Much interest and enthusiasm was shown.

An excellent talk was given by W. C. Fish, who was one of the number in favor of holding the convention here. Mr. Corbett's talk was a history of the chamber of commerce, and a summary of the work that it endeavors to do. The speaker said that part of the work of the chamber was to bring events, such as the convention into the city. He said that the chamber of commerce stood ready to back up the Retail Grocers' association.

LENIENT PARENT CALLED GREATEST ENEMY OF CHILD

America's Gravest Danger Is Over-Indulgence in Home Dr. Barker Says.

WARNS AGAINST MOVIES

Children Often Get Wrong Start in Life From Watching Evil Pictures.

"The biggest single danger ahead of this country is the fact that so many mothers and fathers allow children to grow up in their homes having their own way," said Dr. Charles Barker on an address on "A Mother's Relation To Her Daughter," before the women of Appleton at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the high school. He said that he felt sorry for a child who always had her own way because when a crucial time might come in her life, she would not have self control. "It is the unmistakable duty of every mother of every child to teach that child obedience in the home," Dr. Barker said that the indulgent mother is the worst enemy a child may have.

"Too many of our young men and women are determined to have a good time in life no matter what the price. I'm not surprised when I hear that so many of our young people have gone astray."

Must Punish Child

"It is the duty of the parents to punish the child every time it disobeys. If the disobedience is slight, give it a light punishment; but if the offense is serious, punish accordingly. I'm not advocating corporal punishment, rather make the punishment fit the case. Never punish in anger. It will do no good. The child always resents treatment given in anger. Wait until your anger has cooled, but don't forget to punish."

Dr. Barker said that to deprive a child of the privilege of going to the movies was an effective way of punishing, and incidentally it was better for the child. He said that young girls often sit for an hour in the dark looking at scenes in which a man makes love to another man's wife and thinks of that nature. The children get the wrong impression of life as they watch developments of "triangle love affairs," illegitimate love affairs and similar scandal. The child gets the idea that love and kissing are the important things in life.

"I have seen enough of the slime and dirt in life that I don't need to see it in the movies. I believe in the right kind of movies, those that show beautiful love stories."

"It is the duty of every mother to teach her child from the age of five, six or seven the things the child ought to know about life. Most of the trouble that young women get into is caused by ignorance or misinformation."

"The greatest danger to girls of 15, 16 or 17 years of age is the notion which girls get that if they do not allow boys who keep company with them to caress them, they will not be popular with the boys and they will not take them to places."

Mrs. Cobb, who has had under her charge over 700 wayward girls in Chicago has declared that in every case the trouble started when the girls allowed the boys to indulge in familiarities.

"No girl under 18 years of age should go to a dance unless it is well supervised by people who will be with the young people constantly. Dr. Barker then urged the young women to dress modestly."

DR. HENRY W. ABRAHAM.

The sudden death of Dr. Henry W. Abraham came as a distinct shock to the city of Appleton and the entire community. Probably few, if any, professional or public men were held in higher esteem or had a wider acquaintance than did Dr. Abraham.

Excepting short periods during his medical college training and time devoted to extensive travel, his entire life from young manhood was spent in Appleton, where his sudden passing leaves a vacancy which our city can ill afford.

Dr. Abraham's career was one of a humble beginning. In his earlier days he taught school. He worked his way through Lawrence College where he graduated with high honors. His later graduation in 1898 from the Rush Medical College was also accompanied with high honors. He was a devoted and untiring student of his chosen life's work—medical science.

His prominence in the state of Wisconsin as a leader in his profession is best attested by the fact that the State Medical Society last year elected him to the presidency of their organization, a position which he held at the time of his death. For twelve years he was a member of the State Board of Medical Examiners, being one of its oldest members.

During the late war, the work of Dr. Abraham stood out prominently. His free and unselfish contribution of service and time during those perilous days did much to keep Appleton and Outagamie County in the front ranks in its war achievements.

His death comes as a personal loss to thousands in whose homes his professional counsel and tender care built for him an extensive clientele. His loss is one that can be distinctly felt throughout the entire community.

SENATOR HARDING'S VIEWS.

In what he said at New Orleans Senator Harding took a broad view of the present situation, and recognized that there could be no escape from the consequences of the war, which were world-wide in their effect. He said:

"The world has never witnessed such an upheaval as that which came with the great war. Its civilization was never so sorely tried. Inevitably there must be reconstruction, unavoidably there will be readjustment. And the old order will never return. The incalculable sacrifice would be in vain. But there must come stability and dependability. We must put aside the debris of war and continue to build on solid foundations. We cannot escape all the consequences of fevered war or the unsettled conditions of its aftermath. There are sure to be reverses. There will be endless discouragements, but a confident America will face them with good courage. And we will win."

As the war was a world problem, so is the task of readjustment and reconstruction. We are almost as much interested in having a happy and prosperous Russia, as in having a happy and prosperous Wisconsin. Our trade relations extend to the ends of the earth, and trouble in the Balkans affects the value of our securities at home. The war has disturbed everything, and disrupted much. "Civilization," as Senator Harding said, "was never so sorely tried." "There must," as he said again, "be reconstruction"—reconstruction of civilization. The only safe and wise view today, is the broad view. We are, as has been said, dealing, not with countries, but continents. No one expects the impossible from the new administration, which can count on the cordial support of all the people in dealing with the perplexing problems that it must face. They should be recognized for what they are—that is world problems. It is not merely a question of American prosperity, but one of the saving of civilization. And it has its business, as well as its idealistic side. Business today means co-operation as it never did before, and peace is essential to it—peace and the stable conditions that result from it. War in distant Serbia involved the United States. And the United States still feels its effects, and will continue to feel them for many years.

DRIVING IN A MAZE OF LAW.

Some one has said that if a man is going motoring he needs an extra tool box to hold the municipal traffic ordinances and state laws and an able lawyer to interpret them. But that isn't the worst of it. The Nation's Business says that 5,000 new automobile measures are awaiting introduction in the forty-two state legislatures that meet in January. And no doubt when the legislators get into action they will be able to think up a lot of others as yet unsuspected. They usually do.

David Jameson, president of the American Automobile association, makes an earnest and much needed plea for uniform traffic laws and uniform registration fees "which will permit the man from California to travel anywhere else in the United States without a covert feeling that somehow he is breaking a law of some sort." Precisely the same thing applies to the man from Wisconsin. And not only do the laws of the states differ but the regulations of about every city and village as well.

Uniform traffic laws and better law enforcement are of greater importance than another batch of new laws. This should impress itself upon forty-two state legislatures this winter.

LET RUSSIA ALONE.

The Russian people have earned the right to be left alone. The overwhelming defeat of General Wrangel means Russia will rally to the support of Bolshevism as long as foreign interests attempt to dominate Russia's domestic affairs. France encouraged General Wrangel to proceed with his ill-fated mission, and Russia has responded so furiously that even France must now be convinced of the failure of her policy.

Russia's crude rulers can always hide the terrible mischief they have done at home while foreign foes distract the attention of the Russian people. France alone among the allies has resisted this argument. If France holds her hand, now, the great pauper mass of Russia will be able to take account of its losses. It can sum up its troubles and see its misery without distraction from without.

That is the only way Bolshevism at last will be called to answer for its tyranny and its destruction of Russian civilization. Soviet economies will not work. Let the Russian people face the unanswerable argument of failure under peace conditions. Nothing else will convince them.

THE BEGINNING OF TUBERCULOSIS

How does tuberculosis of the lungs manifest itself in the incipient stage or beginning? With pain in the chest, cough, fever, loss of weight? Not as a rule. The onset of this very common disease is wayward in that respect. Like insanity, it is much more likely to develop in the case of an individual who does NOT fear or suspect he has it; or putting it in the other way, tuberculosis, like insanity, rarely happens to him who fears he is developing it.

There are several characteristic modes of onset of tuberculosis which are familiar to physicians with an intelligent clientele. By intelligent clientele I mean patients with sense enough to consult the doctor in the beginning of health impairment instead of waiting until they feel convinced they are going to be disabled or die. Fifty or more years ago it was the custom to call the doctor only when the illness became serious enough to frighten everybody—and fifty years ago "consumption" was properly deemed a pretty hopeless condition. Today as many as 25 per cent of the laity have enough sense to seek medical counsel immediately when health becomes impaired; and today tuberculosis is one of the most curable of all chronic diseases—curable by intelligent treatment and care, not by any specific.

The most frequent mode of onset is with bronchitis, following what the unenlightened call a "neglected cold." The bronchitis does not get firmly well in the course of two or three weeks, so slight trouble persists, and then the careful physician—if he has the opportunity to see the patient—discovers evidence of tuberculosis. He can discover that evidence only by examining the naked chest repeatedly. But a careful physician does not pretend to examine the chest through the clothing.

A second familiar mode of onset of tuberculosis is with an attack of what seems to be simply pleurisy, usually dry pleurisy. Indeed, the occurrence of pleurisy is always suggestive of beginning tuberculosis, though rather more than half of all such cases prove to be of non-tuberculous character. One who has lately had an attack of pleurisy should certainly have a careful chest examination as a matter of safety first.

A third mode of onset is with spitting of blood or bleeding from the lungs. Of course, there are numerous other causes than tuberculosis for spitting up small amounts of blood, especially in children; but a sudden coughing up of blood in any case warrants careful investigation of the condition of the lungs.

Dyspepsia, so-called, of a persistent or obstinate type, especially in children or youths who are anemic, frail and below the average in growth and development, strongly suggests beginning pulmonary tuberculosis, even though no chest or lung symptoms or cough be noticed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Has and Mentality

A teacher advised a mother to have a little girl's hair cut, as she was "unable to concentrate." The child had very heavy long hair. After it was cut she quickly improved and became as bright as any. (E. C.)

ANSWER.—After my hair began to fall I had to have my appendix cut out. Would the teacher attribute appendicitis to falling hair? Being what I am, I gladly concede that brainy men have little hair and vice versa. But seriously there is no such relation, and it is regrettable that the mother had the child's hair cut. Somebody is always taking the beauty out of life.

Lotion for Blackheads

Please suggest some lotion to clear up blackheads and pimples on the face. (D. E. F.)

ANSWER.—Bathe the face each night for a week with hot soap and water, rinse, and apply a solution of ten grains of zinc sulphate and ten grains sulphurated potassium in each ounce of water.

A Woman Government Official

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—While woman politicians proclaim the need of women in the cabinet and in Congress, Mrs. Annetta Adams is showing what a certain type of woman may be expected to do in high office.

As assistant Attorney General, appointed last May, she has to hand down legal opinions on various subjects to the Government departments. Questions from the people on income tax, for example, are answered by the Income Tax Bureau. But if tax experts get stuck on a point of their own law, or if some new angle or claim is brought up, the bureau refers the problem to Mrs. Adams; and she gives her opinion, which stands as that of the Department of Justice.

Likewise, she handles disputed points of the Volstead Act, though the Supreme Court and Congress have made the terms of prohibition so plain that there are few doubtful phrases. To Mrs. Adams are also entrusted the legal matters relating to the Federal prisons, the war risk insurance, pensions, the Adamson eight hour law, and other laws such as the Pure Food and Drugs Act and the Safety Appliance Act.

A Place for Brains

To render intelligent opinions on these weighty matters demands definite legal experience and ability. Having to deal with the income tax labyrinth alone would stagger the average human being. Yet Mrs. Adams manages to look cheerful and assures you that the income tax law is in itself not unreasonably complicated, though she admits that the exemptions and surtax provisions are a bit confusing.

She recalls how, before she came from California to be Government lawyer, she herself had a little difficulty with her own tax blank. Its mysteries had been carefully unraveled, except the baffling proposition as to which Liberty bonds were exempt from taxation. She took the inquiry to an income tax expert and he admitted that he had been stumped by the same thing, and that he had finally paid tax on all of them to get it off his mind. Now, Mrs. Adams will not have to bother over the possibility of her interpretation of the tax law being wrong, for if a dispute arises the matter will be referred to her anyway.

Mrs. Adams does not talk much about herself, either her past or what she intends to do. She has introduced no innovations into her branch of the Department of Justice, and she does not expect to. As a woman in a high Government office she is a pioneer, and to use her own expression, she is making haste slowly.

She is also a pioneer as a woman lawyer who has achieved a national reputation. As a girl she graduated from the State Normal School in California and from the University of California, and taught school while she worked for her degree. She was admitted to practice in the California courts and in the Federal courts she gave up teaching and, with a partner, went into business for herself. She never specialized in divorce or woman's cases, though women who came to her often stated their preference for a woman counsel in business matters.

Her chance came one day when she was pleading a case against the state prosecution. The district attorney had practically assured the accused man of a long jail sentence, but when Mrs. Adams arose and stated her client's defense in a simple, direct plea, the judge gave the prisoner only six months. The defeated district attorney sought out the counsel for the defense and asked her directly if she would like to be one of his assistants.

First Woman District Attorney

She became the first woman assistant district attorney, a position requiring a good deal of tact, probably for the men were not used to a woman lawyer in their midst. Where a man would occasionally take a chance, Mrs. Adams pored over details and acquired a reputation for making sure. The district attorney relied on her so extensively to draw up the papers for pleadings that when he became ill, she had to take his place, and eventually she became the district attorney of northern California, the first woman to hold the office in any state.

In her new position at Washington she has more time to give careful attention to cases. She thinks that this can be overdone, however, and that women are a little inclined to work too much with details, so that by close attention to fine points there is danger of overlooking the main issues. In other words, of losing the perspective. A man has less patience with details.

Mrs. Adams says this with reluctance. She dislikes to make any catalogue of women versus men to show that the woman juror or lawyer is less logical or more emotional than the masculine prototype, because she regards the individual element which makes each person different from the rest as too uncertain a factor for such crude classifications. To be worth much, a jury of women, she thinks, is not more likely to be swayed by emotion than a jury of men of a similar degree of mentality.

Mrs. Adams looks at life from an impartial, matter-of-fact angle—the judicial outlook. With a little smile she says that she has not the "news-paper sense," that she never could reel off chatty little incidents about her life. "I have no hobbies," she added, "though I do like to cook and take care of my apartment."

There you have one of the first women executives in the Federal Government—a widow of pleasant middle age (the forties) who is a hard worker and a lawyer of recognized ability. This first feminine Federal attorney believes in keeping the home fires burning, but she does it by going out into the world and hustling for the fuel.

FIRE DEPARTMENT TO HAVE SCOUT AID

Plans Are Under Way for Boy Scout Fire Department Auxiliary.

The Appleton fire department is soon to have the assistance of a trained corps of boy scout auxiliary firemen. Details of a plan to aid the fire fighters and serve in fire prevention work are to be worked out by E. R. Henderson, scout executive, and George P. McGilgan, fire chief.

The idea is to have a stated number of boy scouts living near each fire station to serve whenever there is a fire. They will be taught to do many tasks which the firemen are compelled to do themselves when they should be concentrating their efforts on the fire itself. No actual fire fighting will be done by the boys, nor will they be permitted to expose themselves to danger.

Chief McGilgan plans to familiarize the scout firemen with the fire apparatus, tools, ladders, hose and other equipment used by the department. They will thus be able to run errands to and from the trucks to the fire, knowing what the firemen ask for and just where to find it. The firemen can devote all their time to the actual work on a building.

The boys will also learn how to turn hydrants on and off, make connections to hydrant plugs and engines, move up hose, replace bursted sections, secure ladders from trucks, guard apparatus or belongings, and numerous duties that have nothing to do with handling the actual blaze.

Will Wear Badges
Some of the older scouts living near each station will be picked for members of the company. They will be provided with badges so they will be admitted inside the fire lines. These juvenile firemen are expected to serve for long periods to avoid the need of constantly training new boys. First lessons during the cold weather will be given by Chief McGilgan in the fire stations. They will be drilled until

It is sometimes difficult for the inexperienced ironer to keep small articles, be they square or round, in perfect shape. Handkerchief corners have a way of not being square and round doilies are anything but round. If one will iron the way of the cloth the problem will be solved. Iron with the threads of the weave and the centerpiece or doily will be true and even.

Menu for Tomorrow
BREAKFAST—Stewed prunes, fried bread, sirup, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Stuffed onions, whole wheat bread, orange salad, tea.
DINNER—Meat pie, scalloped potatoes, cauliflower au gratin, romaine, maple fig Bavarian cream, oatmeal macaroons, coffee.

My Own Recipes
While the meat pie is baking, the potatoes could be in the oven making one set of burners cook the dinner. The cauliflower could be boiled in the oven, keeping the house free from any cauliflower fumes.

STUFFED ONIONS
4 large onions
1/2 cup bread crumbs
1 tablespoon browned almonds (optional)
2 hard-boiled eggs
2 tablespoons grated cheese
1 egg (for dipping)
salt and pepper

Cook onions until tender but not broken. Remove inside sections and chop with bread crumbs soaked in milk, almonds, hard-boiled eggs and cheese. Season with salt and pepper. Fill onions with this stuffing. Roll in flour, dip in beaten egg and fry in hot butter. Put in baking dish, pour over the following sauce and bake 30 minutes.

SAUCE
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup strained tomato juice
1/4 teaspoon salt in tomatoes
Add flour to butter in which the onions were fried. Stir until smooth. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly. Add tomato juice with soda dissolved in it. Cook until smooth. Add to onions.

they know exactly where to find everything connected with the trucks.

Outdoor training will be given when warm weather returns. The chief plans to take the apparatus out for the benefit of the boys and show them how lines are laid, hose handled and other duties performed. The boys will be allowed to ride on the trucks in response to alarms if their parents give consent. They will always be permitted to make the return trip to the station.

Boys Can Help
No set number has been worked out for assembling the scout companies when an alarm comes in. Those living near the stations will know of it at once and will be able to determine the location by calling the central house or the police department. A big fire usually comes to the attention of the city at once, Chief McGilgan states, and he has no doubt but what the scouts will be on the job.

"I believe the boys can be very helpful to the department if they will learn what they ought to know and will stay with us," said Chief McGilgan. "I have thought of this idea for a long time, and can see where a group of boys properly trained can save us many steps and be of great help in keeping up a steady fight against any fire, especially if it is a large one. We don't intend to get them into any danger whatsoever, but they can be of service between us and the apparatus."

SENIOR AUCTION ATTRACTS CROWD

Thousands of Articles Are Offered for Sale at High School Affair.

Several hundred people gathered at the high school this afternoon to participate in the first annual "senior auction" in an effort to raise money for charity. Thousands of articles, many of them donated by townspeople, were offered for sale. "Bidding pools" have been organized to facilitate the sales. High school students, who are most enthusiastic over the affair, have arranged "programs" which kept the bidders and spectators in the best of humor.

All preparations for the big event were made by members of the senior class who received valuable knowledge from their contact with businessmen and with charity workers. All the students were members of committees which carried on the work.

One of the most important of these committees had charge of the decorations which were completed this morning. The "Little Press" company donated most of the materials necessary for the decorations which are in the senior class colors.

Members of the decorating committee are Albert Ogilvie, chairman; Philip Jacobson, Clara Belzer, Aaron Gehring, Helen Roehl, Gordon Schultz, Helene Harriman, Theodore Steidl, Isabel Glasnap, Lucille Haferbecker.

'BRING ON THAT TURKEY DINNER,' HE DEMANDS

"Since I've regained my appetite and got my stomach back in shape, I can't seem to get enough to eat," declared J. E. Harnmeyer, Tuesday.

"You bet, I'm looking forward to that Thanksgiving dinner this year, because I know I will be able to get away with the big eats without any bad after effects."

"Until Kozak gave me a ravenous appetite and fixed my stomach like new, I never enjoyed a meal," continued Mr. Harnmeyer, who lives at 1275 National Ave., Milwaukee, being employed as a switchman on the C. M. & St. P. "In the first place nothing seemed to taste right. What I did force down seemed to lodge there feeling like a chunk of lead. Dull pains and a full feeling in the pit of the stomach, and flutterings around the heart often lasted for hours after eating. I was losing in weight and folks said I looked bad."

"All was different after taking Kozak. This remarkable medicine got right down to the seat of my trouble giving me a dandy appetite and promoting the digestion of my food. I have more energy, can work harder without feeling tired and sleep like a lamb at night."

Kozak, the $10,000 Formula, is now being explained by the Kozak Express at Schlitz Bros. drug store, College Ave. and Oneda St., daily and evenings. Come in. Talk it over!

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM COUNTY AND STATE

EQUITY TO FIGHT LEAGUE INVASION

State Convention at Milwaukee May Bring Move to Reorganize.

Madison—The Wisconsin Society of Equity, which holds its annual convention in Milwaukee beginning Nov. 30, will hold a series of conferences, the first of which took place at Madison on Monday, to strengthen the defenses against expected aggression of Non-Partisan league adherents. Other conferences will be held in Milwaukee and Racine before the state convention opens, and plans will be laid at all these gatherings to insure the defeat of anticipated efforts to gain control of the organization.

"If Equity needs reorganization the present membership is able to accomplish it," James Clemmons of Racine said on Sunday. "We certainly do not require any aid from the Townley league."

In addition to the pending struggle with the Non-Partisan league adherents, the state convention faces the problems of adopting a policy toward a national co-operative marketing system and the selection of a new president to succeed J. N. Titmore, who has announced that he will not run again.

BUILD BARRACKS TO HOUSE PUPILS

Congestion in New London Schools to Be Relieved in Near Future.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London—The city council this week made provision to house the overflow of children in the south side and McKinley schools and awarded Victor Thomas a contract to erect barracks on both the north and south side school grounds. No extra appropriation was necessary as the money will come out of the school funds. Five thousand dollars was allowed the Board of Education by the council to build the barracks and it is thought that they can be sold for dwellings in case they are of no use in future years. Prof. Newberry, E. L. Zaig, Attorney G. H. Putnam and Mayor E. W. Wendlandt have been agitating the question of more adequate school quarters, and they were able to influence the council so the vote stood 5 to 2 in favor. When these buildings are completed it will no longer be necessary to hold only part time sessions in the kindergarten and first grade.

Members of the Dorcas Society of the Methodist church have been busy the past few weeks conducting a membership contest, which has proved very successful. Fifty-four new members have been added, making a total of 90 in the society. The losing side was to have furnished a banquet for the winners, but Mrs. E. Dailey who has been captain for one season, has the same number of members as has Mrs. E. Steingraber who led for the other side. The older members have decided to give the banquet in honor of the new.

Too Weak to Do Anything

The ordinary every-day life of most women is a ceaseless treadmill of work. How much harder the tasks become when some derangement peculiar to her sex makes every movement painful, and keeps the nervous system all unstrung until life seems hardly worth living. Every woman in this condition should profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow.

Read the Experience of These Two Women

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, pains in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then in bed, and after the first bottle I could be out of bed, then I took Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and also used the Sanative Wash. I still take the medicine and am able now to do my own housework. My friends say, 'My! but you look well—what do you do? Who is your doctor?' And there is only one answer, 'Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines which I gladly recommend.'"—Mrs. W. M. STEIN, 560 Douglas Street, Reading, Pa.

Gainesville, Tex.—"For three years I suffered untold agony each month with pains in my side. I found only temporary relief in doctor's medicine or anything else I took until my husband and I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I mentioned it to a neighbor and she told me she had taken it with good results, and advised me to try it. I was then in bed part of the time, and my doctor said I would have to be operated on, but we decided to try the Vegetable Compound, and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a dressmaker and am now able to go about my work, and do my housework besides. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial as I am always glad to speak a word for your medicine."—Mrs. W. Multiplying Motor Miles

THE number of motor miles traveled by the average American has been increasing steadily for a decade. During 1921 this mileage again will be vastly increased.

It is estimated that 10 million automobiles and trucks will be in operation by the end of 1921. The estimate for 1920 is 7,523,000.

The most intensive use of all kinds of automotive machinery is in the 10 Middle Western states served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), and the major problem confronting this company is to keep its patrons supplied with all the gasoline and lubricating oils they require.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is acknowledged to be the largest individual producer of gasoline in the world, and its efficient system of distribution makes it possible for the remotest citizen in the 10 states served to get his requirements of petroleum products with a minimum of effort and expense.

Advanced methods of refining, originated in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) laboratories, have vastly increased the percentage of gasoline recoverable from crude oil.

The Company is striving to increase the yield of gasoline, and every effort is concentrated to the accomplishment of this result without sacrifice of gasoline quality. The efficiency of Red Crown Gasoline is an illustration of what has been accomplished.

The entire petroleum industry is working to multiply the motor miles which shall be available during 1921, and the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is leading in this effort.

Prospectors are seeking to discover new fields to drill. Producers are insisting on maximum output from wells already drilled.

Waste of oil in transportation is practically eliminated, and the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) efficiency in refining has vastly increased the average recovery of motor fuel from the crude available.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is co-operating in every way with automobile industry and the American motorist to multiply motor miles in 1921.

Son's Future Depends On Start Given By His Father

Dr. Barker Tells Huge Audience of Father's Responsibility to Son.

"The greatest danger ahead of this country, the biggest cloud on our horizon is not the election of our enemies nor Bolshevism, for let the American people get their eyes open on anything and that is the last of it. The biggest danger lies in the fact that so many fathers and mothers in this country allow their boys and girls to grow up having their own way."

Such was the statement of Dr. Charles E. Barker of Grand Rapids, Mich., in his lecture, "A Father's Responsibility to His Son" before a large audience of men and young men at Lawrence Memorial chapel Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Appleton Rotary club.

"Two weeks ago I rode on a train from Jackson, Mich., to Saginaw where I was to speak," said Dr. Barker.

Open Skat Party at Elks Club, Thanksgiving afternoon at 2:30 sharp. All Skat players invited. Admission $1.00.

or, "and in the drawing room of that same sleeper were three young men handcuffed to an officer. Each was sentenced to the penitentiary for burglarizing a bank and for having committed murder.

"Two of the young men testified on the stand that they had always been allowed to have their own way when asked by the judge before sentence was pronounced, what kind of fathers they had. If justice were meted out where due the fathers would be in that penitentiary. You are the boy's worst enemy if you do not discipline that boy. If the boy does not do as he should, punish him."

Make Boy Work If a boy is disobedient and indolent the speaker recommended that the father force him to go to work or providing him with no money. "It is no handicap in this country for a boy to be born poor," said Dr. Barker. How about Lincoln, McKinley and Harding. They were men that came up from poverty, every one of them. How many sons of wealthy men have stood in the White House? We have one exception. His father was a millionaire, but he taught that boy to work when he grew up, and that was Theodore Roosevelt.

"It is your responsibility to your unborn children to live your life clean until those children come into the world," said Dr. Barker in addressing the younger men of the audience.

Dr. Barker declared that a majority of children confined in institutions for feeble minded were born of parents who had strayed from the path of virtue. He presents many figures to show the necessity for living clean lives. Tragic word pictures of the result of fast living were painted, making a lasting impression on the speaker's audience.

The father's responsibility to his son in the various stages of development was explained in detail. He called attention to the child's natural curiosity about the things of life, advising his auditors to carefully answer their children and to warn them against harmful practices which surely will weaken the moral and physical fibre of the growing boy.

Should be Advisor The father's responsibility to his son continues until the boy enters the marriage relation, Dr. Barker declared. He said that the father should be the "pal" and advisor of his son and that the young man should be taught to obtain his information from his father rather than from companions whose knowledge is adulterated with falsehoods.

In opening his lecture Dr. Barker said that he had never forgotten the happy acquaintances he formed on his visit here four years ago this coming December and that he had said to Mrs. Barker many times that he never enjoyed one week's stay in any city since he began his public work seven years ago so much as he did his visit in Appleton. Among the acquaintances he formed was Dr. J. S. Reeve, who introduced him last night, and the late Dr. H. W. Abraham, his partner.

NEW WATER RULES ARE IN USE HERE

City Is Complying With New Code Adopted by State Railroad Commission.

Appleton is one of the cities where the municipal water works department complies with the new water service rules adopted by the railroad commission. Quality of water and sewage disposal remain under the jurisdiction of the health commission, but the new rules embody practically all other practices in connection with a water department.

Postal Employees' Dancing Party, Eagles Hall, Thanksgiving Night, Nov. 25. Music by Country Club Orchestra.

The rules were made up after several public hearings and are especially beneficial to patrons under privately owned plants, as municipal systems generally fill every possible requirement for the public welfare.

Among the requirements are that public water must be protected from pollution from any source. Dead ends of mains must be flushed frequently and records kept of the dates when this is done.

Records of complaints by consumers and the disposition made in each case are required.

Mains must be of sufficient capacity to give ample pressure at all times. Larger plants must install a pressure gauge from which records must be made at stated intervals. Normal pressure must be maintained for proper fire protection.

Pumpage records must be kept, preferably by means of station meters. Meters must be tested for accuracy when installed, and must be re-tested frequently within an allowable error of two per cent.

Consumers may have meters tested providing deposit of $1 is made for each inch of nominal size meter, to be returned to him should his meter be shown to exceed the two per cent allowable error, or to be forfeited to the company in case the meter is not exceeding the two per cent.

Any water consumer may have his meter tested by the commission by making a deposit of $2 per inch of nominal size of meter. The utility must return the $2 if the commission finds the meter to be over-registering beyond the allowable limit.

Permanent meter records must be kept by the utility, and proper equipment must be kept for testing and repairing meters. Portable test meters must be tested often to insure their accuracy.

Bills rendered consumers must show meter readings and dates. Accurate construction records must also be kept by utilities.

The Stage

Fiske O'Hara

In Appleton there will soon be a new, warm glow of kindness and a resurrected faith in human nature. Fiske O'Hara will do it, Fiske O'Hara in his latest success "Springtime in Mayo," which comes here Nov. 29 under the direction of Augustus Piton Inc. Enthusiastic audiences are everywhere crowding the theatres and are said to applaud with persistent crescendo, both because they wish to show tribute to America's favorite actor-singer and his clever play, and because they derive from the presence of the characters on the stage a quiet joy and inspiration, which is too far from common in these days of spurious drama. "Springtime in Mayo" is termed an Irish melody drama, in three acts, and written by Anna Nichols Duffy. Endowed as he is with a rich sense of comedy values, Mr. O'Hara brings to the play a vitality and attractiveness it would not otherwise possess. The new songs which he will interpolate during the action of the comedy, are said to display his pleasing tenor voice to unusual advantage.

IOWA EDUCATOR TO BE FORUM SPEAKER

Student of Immigration Problem Comes to Appleton Next Sunday.

The people of Appleton will hear the subject of "Americanization or Alienization" presented at the People's Forum Sunday evening by a man so enthusiastic to gather facts that he travelled back and forth across the Atlantic ocean several times in the steamer. He is said to know more things of human interest about the immigrant than any other American platform orator.

The speaker is to be Dr. Edwin A. Steiner, professor of sociology at Grinnell college, Iowa. He was born in Vienna and has travelled extensively in Austria, Hungary, Poland and other European nations. He speaks several languages and has made a wide study of immigration based on facts derived from his investigations and mingling with foreigners bound for America, the "land of promise."

Dr. Steiner is said to be one of the most sought for speakers in this country. He is a natural born platform master and brings a fascinating message. An Appleton man who heard him recently at the Sunday Evening club meeting in Chicago said he held his audience spell bound. He has written several widely circulated books one of which is "On the Trail of the Immigrant."

Something new in soap—new and vastly better! Naphtha soap, in chip form, the first, as far as we know, ever put on the market containing Naphtha and olive oil in addition—the perfected cleansing combination.

This new soap—Ajax Naphtha Chips—is pure soap. It contains no adulterants or impurities.

Because of this purity, it won't fade colors or harm fabrics. The Naphtha and soap combination makes a lather which cleanses without rubbing.

Because they are pure soap and all soap, they go much farther. The use of Ajax is economy.

Ajax Naphtha Chips are offered, after months of experiment, as the finally perfected washing machine soap.

The thin, curly, green wafer-like chip dissolves to the last particle. It produces a thick, profuse, stiff lather which stands up until you are through.

This lather cleanses, most thoroughly, the average soiled clothes. No soaking, no rubbing, no boiling, are required.

It makes the action of your washing machine thoroughly efficient. You can do a week's washing almost without wetting your hands.

Get a package of Ajax Naphtha Chips before next wash day. It is wasted effort and wasted time to continue using soap which necessitates extra work.

LENROOT SPENDS VACATION HUNTING

Senator Dodges Office Hunters
While He Seeks His Quota of Deer.

Superior—Senator Irvine L. Lenroot has laid aside the cares of his office and gone into the woods to spend his vacation. The senator and two friends are camping near Bear Lake, Douglas county, where they will remain until Dec. 1. Ever since he was able to handle a gun the senator has begged his quota of deer. He is an enthusiastic hunter and an expert marksman. Every year for the last thirty-five years he has taken his vacation during the deer hunting season in Wisconsin.

Batching it has no terrors for the senator and his party, according to Arthur A. Lenroot, his brother, who returned after spending a week-end with the party. They have a tent and all the camp equipment of the pioneer forest ranger. They cook their own meals and wash their own dishes, but draw the line on washing their own clothes.

"He wants to get away from the host of office seekers," said the senator's brother, "and he has pretty well succeeded. His camp is in one of the wildest sections of the county, and if any Joe hunters can find him they ought to be entitled to a good fat position."

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kilen have returned to Chicago after a week's visit here.

URGE LAW TO SHIFT TAXATION BURDEN

Opposition Promised for Sever-son Bill—Bigger Appropriations Asked.

Madison—That the big fight in the coming legislature will be over methods for paying the increased expense at the university and normal schools is indicated by the budgets which are being filed by the different educational institutions with the state board of education.

This year the university is asking for an increase in appropriation from $10,730,338 for the biennial to $15,299,764. When the special session of the legislature passed the bill authorizing an increase of salaries at the University of Wisconsin, no measure was passed to raise the money with which to pay these additional expenses.

The legislature passed a bill providing that part of these expenses should be paid for by a mill tax and the remainder should be paid by a surtax on large incomes or the state. This method of taxation was put forward by Senator H. J. Severson of Waupaca county.

The principle of this bill will be the bone of contention at the coming session of the legislature. It is apparent from every report filed by the different institutions that there will be an increase of appropriation at this session of the legislature. Up to the present time the University of Wisconsin, the common schools and the normal schools have been partly supported by a mill tax, which is a general property tax on the general property of the state.

An effort will be made to change this policy of taxation at the coming session of the legislature so that a part of these expenses will be borne by persons and corporations having a large income in the state. This question promises to be the most important one to come before the legislature.

Jointly by Winnebago, Green Lake and Waushara counties. The report and recommendation by a committee of the board was adopted. Committees from the Green Lake and Waushara county boards conferred with the Winnebago committee. The visitors inspected the sanatorium, which is situated near the asylum and county farm.

A committee has been appointed by the Winnebago board to co-operate with committees from other counties in using influence to secure legislation providing for taxation of automobile truck owners, the proceeds to be used in the maintenance of state highways. It is held that trucks cause more wear and tear on highways than any other vehicles and that their owners should stand a higher percentage of taxes for keeping the roads in shape.

Winnebago county at large will raise $642,906.95 in taxes for the year. That is $110,144.26 less than the 1919 levy, which was made high by the soldiers' bonus tax, but is an increase over the 1918 taxes, minus the soldier levy.

Main traveled roads in the county will be kept free from snow this winter, if possible. The county board appropriated $10,000. A portion of this will be used to keep the Menasha-Appleton road open.

TO ASK CHANGE IN HOURS AND WAGES

Petition to State Body Asks Better Conditions for Women and Minors.

Madison—The Wisconsin State Federation of Labor, the Milwaukee Council of Social Agencies, and the Wisconsin Consumers' league today filed with the industrial commission a petition, asking it to issue orders limiting the hours of labor of women and minors to eight hours per day and to forty-four hours per week. In the same petition the commission is asked to establish a higher minimum wage rate. In this petition it is stated that a work day for women and minors of not more than eight hours and not more than forty-four hours per week is a social requirement and is necessary to protect the life, health, safety and welfare of women and minor employees. It is also stated that the minimum wage for women and minors heretofore established is insufficient to afford a proper living.

Under the statutes it is the duty of the industrial commission to determine the limitations of the hours of labor of women and minors which are in accord with the requirements of life, health, safety and welfare. Under the authority of this statute the industrial commission in 1917 issued orders prohibiting night work for women and minors in manufacturing and laundries, and limiting night work in other places of employment, to which the law relates, to eight hours per day and forty-eight hours per week. The commission at that time, however, did not disturb the limitation of ten hours per day and fifty-five hours per week for day work.

The minimum wage rate was established by the industrial commission in 1919. The commission then found the living wage to be 22 cents per hour. The industrial commission will consider what action is should take upon the petition now filed at its meeting to be held next Tuesday. The petitioners in this case are the same organization which presented the petitions under which the commission acted in 1917 and again in 1919.

DODGE COUNTY SPEEDS ITS HIGHWAY PROGRAM

Watertown—A road building project in Dodge county which will involve the expenditure of $1,000,000 next year was reported to the Dodge county commissioners at their last meeting by Frank McHugh of the town of Shields. This will include new work and the work on concrete highways which was abandoned this season because of scarcity of labor and high price of materials.

Funds have been provided for in the appropriation of $5,000,000 voted by the people of Dodge county a year ago. The work will be expedited in 1921, due to the fact that energies of the road forces were concentrated this year, in addition to maintaining existing highways, on grading and preparing other roads for concrete surfacing the coming season.

E. T. Klug was re-elected highway commissioner and the old road committee of the board was renamed as follows: E. C. Wruke, chairman, Oak Grove; Frank McHugh, Shields; Fred Thielke, Hustisford; F. A. Kemmel, Lomira, and Fred Mielke, Trenton.

Refrigeration and Meat

In less than an hour after an animal is dispatched in a Swift & Company packing plant, it is hanging up as meat in a room brought by refrigerating machinery to a temperature just above freezing.

From that time until it is in your own ice box—within two to three weeks—it is kept at the same temperature; first in the coolers at our packing plants; next on our refrig-erating cars, more than 6,000 of which are constantly moving to market with their perishable cargoes; then in our refrigerator rooms at our branch selling houses; then in your dealer's ice box, and last in your own.

Only for the few minutes while it is being put into the refrigerator cars at our packing plants, or taken out of them at our branch houses, or whisked to your retailer in our trucks, is it exposed to any change of temperature.

Without a skilled use of this system of cooling, made possible by modern science, you could not get fresh meat, prepared under most sanitary conditions, except at greater expense—unless you happened to live so near live stock raising centers that your needs could be supplied from live stock raised near-by.

If the foregoing raises any question in the mind of the reader, we will endeavor to answer it, upon request.

NINE CENT DROP IN WHEAT PRICE

Decline of All Grains Continues on the Chicago Market Today.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Declines on the Chicago board of trade continued in all grain futures today.

The extensive short coverings of Tuesday left the market with little buying power and it was unable to withstand the pressure caused by reports of flour for export being held up at Philadelphia by lack of funds. As the decline began many who purchased Tuesday dumped their holdings.

Provisions declined with the lower grain and livestock markets.

March wheat led the drop losing 9 points after opening at $1.62, 1½ lower. December wheat opening four lower at $1.64, later declined 4½.

THANKSGIVING DINNERS FOR 2,500 IMMIGRANTS
By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Twenty-five hundred persons who have just landed on our modern Plymouth rock—the Ellis Island immigration station—will have their first taste tomorrow of American citizenship and Thanksgiving turkey.

Frederick Wallis, immigration commissioner, today completed plans for a big dinner and entertainment for these new arrivals which will start them on their way to Americanism. The dinner will be served to 2,500 men, women and children in the big dining room, and to such of the 500 hospital patients as are able to eat it.

PLEAD FOR PEACE FROM NO MAN'S LAND

League of Nations' Commissioners Fail to Stop Slavic Fighting.

By United Press Leased Wire
London—Stationed in no man's land with a telephone leading to both Polish and Lithuanian headquarters, league of nations commissioners vainly pleaded with the opposing leaders to end the fighting, according to a dispatch received here today.

The commission invaded the battlefield with a special train flying the league of nations flag. The battle continued to rage with machine gun and rifle bullets whining past only 200 yards away.

Amid that rattle and clatter the commissioners talked first with the Lithuanians. Taking turns they pleaded that the league's request for an armistice be heeded. Then they threatened punishment by the league.

Late reports from Vilna were conflicting. Armistice plans were said to be progressing. It was also stated that the fighting continued with unabated fury, Lithuanian's forces making progress to the northeast.

The public generally does not realize that all of the best box chocolate candy has to go before it is good," said Levy.

"All good box candy is about six months old. Fresh candy is harmful to the stomach and not so tasty as that which has been aged in the box."

cream, hard tack, lollypops and the like will retail one third cheaper, according to Levy.

The sweets munched by children and the grown-ups whose teeth permit, will sell at from 30 to 35 cents a pound cheaper than last year. The same grade last year brought 50 cents.

Levy declared the price of candy has been gradually receding with sugar but the price is still from two to three times greater than before America joined the war. Greater declines have not taken place because the sugar price is not back to pre-war levels and labor is still more costly, he said.

Bon Bon Manufacturer Says Candy Should Be at Least Six Months Old.

It isn't that the candy manufacturers don't join the rest of the world in loving a lover but, according to Albert Levy, general manager of D. Aurbach and Sons, large candy manufacturers, fancy box candy sold now was made six months ago when sugar prices were soaring.

NEW CAPTAIN IS ALL AROUND STAR

Guy Sundt, Badger Leader, Is Star in Football, Basketball and Track.

Madison, Wis.—Guy Sundt, who has been chosen as captain of next year's university football eleven, is one of the greatest all around athletes that has ever worn a Cardinal uniform. Football, basketball and track are the three major sports in which the Stoughton sportsman excels. Sundt started his football career at the University on the 1918 aggregation. He played such a stellar game that he was elected captain of the 1919 eleven. With the return of Chuck Carpenter to school, however, Sundt generously gave up the honor to the all conference center.

The election of Sundt this year was the only logical step his teammates could take. Not only had he been elected captain once, but the fullback played one of the most consistent games of the members of the Wisconsin backfield and is classed as one of the three best fullbacks in the west.

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN BASKETBALL RULES

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Two important changes in the basketball rules have been announced by the rules committee of the inter-collegiate basketball league.

One allows a player who has been taken from the game to return excepting one who has been disqualified for four personal fouls.

The other requires that a held ball under the basket be taken out fifteen feet and tossed up.

In addition, he shares honors as the leading punter in the big ten.

Sundt has been handling the weights in track and field competition. Last year he spurted in the Illinois dual meet here and although the Suckers were conceded supremacy in the weight events, Sundt came through with better marks in the shot and javelin than he had ever made before in his career and won the meet for Wisconsin by a slight margin.

Sundt's work in coming through in the pinches of big athletic events has characterized his athletic career at Wisconsin.

BUSHEY SQUAD PLAYS BIG NORTHERN TEAM

The Rusher basketball team left Wednesday morning on a week end trip to northern Wisconsin and the upper peninsula of Michigan to play some of the strongest teams in that section. Manager Fred Bushey said the team is in excellent condition and expects to win a majority of its games.

The squad plays at Leona Wednesday and Thursday nights. Friday it tackles the Aetna Athletic Club team at Ishpeming and Saturday it is to line up against the College of Mines at Houghton. The city team of Crystal Falls and the Kimberly-Clark team at Niagara may also be played before the team returns to Appleton.

LEADERS KEEP PLACES IN BOWLING TOURNEY

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Louis—Bowling was slow in the middle west tournament here last night, all the leaders holding their positions.

L. Kleeson and L. Ulrich, of St. Louis, made the best effort in the doubles when they toppled over 1181 pins putting them in second place behind Wagner and Larson, of Chicago. Werder and Feucht also of St. Louis, took third with 1,171.

In the singles, W. Hartman, of Alton, Ill., with 698, went into third place. L. Keller, of Racine, took fourth place with 664.

Eau Claire—A policewoman for Eau Claire by New Year's is the slogan adopted by the Eau Claire Woman's club, which will appeal to the city council to appoint such an officer to look after welfare of the girls and work with wayward girls such as many cities in the state have already done.

The matter has not yet been taken up with the council but the club is now engaged in the work of arousing public sentiment in favor of the move.

One meeting has been held which was addressed by Mrs. Fannie Hamilton, policewoman at Madison, Wis.

LITTLE HOPE FOR POST-SEASON TILTS

Princeton Refuses to Go West to Play California University Team.

(By Henry L. Farrell)
By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Hopes for some post season intersectional games to decide the championship claims of several leading eleven seem forlorn.

Princeton has turned down the Pacific coast trip. Ohio State has declined to play Notre Dame and Penn State will not talk until after the Pittsburgh game Thanksgiving day.

California, with one of the best teams developed on the coast, seems to be up against it for the annual New Years game at Pasadena. Princeton, as much the champion of the east as any other team, does not want to make the trip. The Tigers having cleaned up on football are looking to the basketball title and as five of the gridiron stars are on the court squad, they want to leave football a closed book for the year.

Ohio State, Western Conference champions, may be invited to make the trip but since the Buckeyes declined to meet Notre Dame in a play-off for the championship of the west, it does not seem likely that they will look any more favorably upon a game with the Pacific coast stars.

Rules of the western conference which restrict the number of games played in a season are cited as the reason for turning a deaf ear to the Notre Dame offers.

Nothing has developed in the national league baseball club proposal to have Penn State and Notre Dame meet on the Polo grounds the Saturday following the Army-Navy game. Notre Dame is willing, it is understood, but Hugo Beslick quite rightly wants a championship game. He's not sure about his claim for the eastern crown until he gets Glenn Warner's Panthers out of the way.

It is the belief of football circles here that either Pittsburgh or Notre Dame would make the trip if the coast people would care to have them.

Next season claims for the various championships may be more clearly established. More than the usual number of intersectional games are being arranged between the real leaders.

Among the big tilts in prospect are Harvard-Illinois. Princeton-Chicago, Yale-Ohio State, Notre Dame-Army, Harvard-Notre Dame, Yale-Georgia Tech, Harvard-Centre, Harvard-Army and others.

The idea of the sacredness of salt is very ancient.

TANLAC KEPT HIM ON JOB SAYS P.M.R.R. MAN

Was So Crippled Up With Rheumatism He Was Ready To Give Up But Is Now As Strong and Active As Ever, Declares Smith.

"Yes, sir, Tanlac has kept me on the job, I can say that much for it," declared John M. Smith, boilermaker for the Pere-Marquette Railway, living at 53 Stoughton St., Northwest, Grand Rapids, Mich.

"I was so crippled up with rheumatism that I thought I was going to have to give up my job and quit work altogether. I had pains all over my body and every morning was so stiff I could hardly get out of bed. At my work sharp pains would catch me in the back and arms and I would have to stop until they eased up. My chest and shoulders hurt awfully, in fact, at times every bone and muscle in my body seemed to be aching.

"My stomach also caused me all kinds of trouble and my appetite wasn't anything to brag about. It looked like nothing set well with me and I was gradually falling off in weight. I couldn't sleep sound for the world, all I could do was just doze and dream all night long and then in the morning I was so weak and fagged out I could hardly make it to my work.

"Well, sometime ago I made up my mind to see if Tanlac would do me any good, as other people said it was helping them. So I went by the Drug Store and bought me some and now I am surprised at the way it has fixed me up. I feel like my old self again and can do a better day's work than I've been able to do in years.

"I haven't a pain or ache of any kind and am strong and active as I ever was before. My stomach never gives me any trouble now and talk about eating, why I can eat as much in one meal now as I used to in five. I sleep as sound as I did when I was a boy and get up mornings ready for work. I have told a number of the boys around the shop about Tanlac and every one of them who has tried it is bragging about it now."

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by John E. Voigt; F. O. Brown, Shiocton; Dr. J. M. Sattler, Bear Creek; H. E. Abend, Dale; R. E. Lowell, Little Chute.

"NOW-A-DAYS"

says the Good Judge

A man can get a heap more satisfaction from a small chew of this class of tobacco, than he ever could get from a big chew of the old kind.

He finds it costs less, too. The good tobacco taste lasts so much longer he doesn't need to have a fresh chew nearly as often.

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

We Give Thanks

It is good for us all to give one day each year to honest recognition of the things we have to be thankful for.

This November we, as a Nation again give thanks in memory of the Armistice that brought us peace.

And we appreciate more keenly than ever the privilege that is given us all as Americans—a voice in selecting those who guide our national affairs.

This Institution is thankful for the friends it has made, for its many opportunities of serving them, and for the vision of greater opportunities ahead.

In keeping with the spirit of the day, we shall be closed for Thanksgiving, November 25th.

HANSEN SERVICE

AGAIN DEMONSTRATED

Plant of Green Bay Sugar Company.

A New Construction Record Established In The Green Bay District

On March 10th officials of the Green Bay Sugar Company engaged the Ludolf M. Hansen Company to construct the plant, power house, boiler house and beet sheds at Green Bay. We agreed at that time to deliver the completed plant in time to care for the beet crop maturing in October.

We completed and delivered the plant in time to care for its active operation during the latter portion of October AS PER AGREEMENT. The above illustration does not show the entire group of buildings which required over one hundred carloads of crushed stone and cement alone. At times there were over 300 men employed on the job.

FEW HORSES LEFT IN LIVERY BARN

Appleton Livery Men Selling Horse Equipment as Rapidly as Possible.

"I am very sorry to say that I still have four, but expect to get rid of them as soon as I can," said Oscar Kunitz of J. C. Kunitz & Son's Livery when questioned as to the number of his driving horses for hire when the snow is deep this winter.

One of the obstacles that physicians, traveling men and the public generally will be up against when snow flies will be the absence of horses. Smith's Livery & Transfer company hasn't had a horse in its stable since its auction last spring and has sold all of its harnesses, buggies, cutters and sleighs.

J. C. Kunitz & Son have been disposing of their equipment at private sales all summer and have very little left.

APPLETON GIRLS WILL ATTEND BIG CONFERENCE

Five young women of the Baptist church will attend the Older Girl's Conference at Oshkosh, Nov. 26, 27 and 28. They are the Misses Ger-dine Rammer, Lorraine Pardee, Gladys and Vera Lockery and Mrs.
A. L. McMillan.
Miss Winifred Wood will represent the Presbyterian Sunday school.
Among those expecting to attend from the First Methodist church are Ruth Brigham, Genevieve Hyde, Florence Torrey and Dorothy Wolf.

"We will have to keep a few buggies, harnesses and cutters as long as we have horses," said Mr. Kunitz. "but they will go, too, as soon as the rest of our horses are sold."

Abused by Drivers

"No more horses for me in the livery business. I think too much of them to see them abused as they were last winter. People accustomed to automobiles forget that a horse cannot make as good time and consequently abuse them. We had our horses used up more last winter than at any time during the thirty years we have been in business. They were not only overdriven, but their legs were badly cut by forcing them thru deep snow."

Mr. Kunitz said that the expense of keeping them thru the summer, when they brought in no returns, was so great that the charges in the winter would be prohibitive and patrons would think they were being robbed if an adequate price were asked. C. E.
Smith said that he considered himself lucky in having sold his horses last spring as the price of hay and oats was so high all summer that it would have been impossible for them to pay for their keep from what they earned during the winter months.

Keep Roads Clear

The absence of horses this winter in certain to cause inconveniences especially if there is much snow. The county board at its annual session made an appropriation to keep the main traveled trunk highways in the county open and the city engineer is planning to do more thorough work than ever in the way of removal of snow from the streets of the city, but even at best faithful dobbing will be missed.

American Made Toys Are Featured By Dealers Here

More Toys Than Ever Before
But the Price Is About the Same as Last Year.

More toys are being shown this year by Appleton merchants than ever before. American made toys make up the bulk of the market, and they are only a very little more costly than the foreign made toys.

"We will show this year a larger and better variety of toys than ever before," said the manager of the toy department of the Pettibone Peabody company. "Although a few foreign made toys are coming across the border, except in a few instances where American toys were sold at a loss, the foreign toys are cheaper."
"America has taken first place in the toy world. Toy factories are being started up all over the country and the articles that they produce are, on the whole, more practical and better made than usual.

"The price of toys has never been high, and this year they will be about the same as last season. We expect no decrease before a year from Christmas or even later. We have prepared and are still preparing to meet the largest demand for toys that was ever made."

The toys this year are much more substantial than before, it was said.
The fact that so many people were going into the toy game made it possible for the dealer to secure better articles. He said that toys from the Toy Company of America would be on display in the windows.

"We do not feature the sale of toys," said W. D. Schlafer of the Schlafer Hardware company. "Our line of toys consists of things that are for the boys. The builder sets cannot be improved, they are as perfect as a toy can be made."

Mr. Schlafer said that the toys were practically all American made.

"The sets which we carry are certainly substantial. The price may be somewhat higher, but the toys have been made better as a result."

Children Want Action
"Mechanical toys are most in demand," said the toy department manager of Gloudehans-Cage Company.
"People do not care for the still toys they want something that is capable of motion. The old type of spring toys also are being discarded for the friction type. Wagons and autos with a heavy flywheel instead of a spring are demanded. They are more substantially built and will stand more knocking about."

"Nearly all of our toys are American made. There are a few articles which may have been held up during the war, that are coming on the market. The American made toys are certainly better than they have been;
the American manufacturer has learned a lot about making them in the last few years."

"Christmas tree trimmings can be made only by the foreign countries.
Last year much of the decoration consisted of tinsel because the American manufacturer could not make the glass ornaments. The Germans have not yet been able to settle down to manufacturing of such articles, but as soon as they do, they will find a market for their goods, for the American ornament does not equal the foreign product."

German Dolls Best
"I think that most of the dealers are waiting for the appearance of foreign made dolls' heads. No one has been equal to the Germans in the manufacture of them; and as soon as they get started again, the market will become foreign as before the war.

"The price on toys is very little different. There will not be a decrease until other things come down. However, producers are offering us an extra discount, not because of overstock or lowering cost of production, but because American labor has shown increased efficiency."

The people are not buying military or war toys this year, the manager said. The warlike feeling is gone, and the customers are buying toys of a practical nature. The trade in toys will be much greater this year, he said. The people have passed over the period of saving, and are buying more heavily than ever before.

"We handle nearly all American made toys," said G. S. Galpin, of the Galpin Hardware company. "And there is no doubt but that they are more substantial than they have been."
"There are some toys which might have been held during the war, and they are finding their way into the American market, but outside of a few, the American toy is selling all over the country. The foreign made toy will come out again after affairs become more settled, but they will never have the hold upon the market that they had before the war. The American manufacturer has learned to make the toys nearly as good as the German."

"Christmas tree trimmings will have to come from the foreigners.
The Americans have not grasped the art of blowing balls and such things from glass."

Undoubtedly, the Christmas season will be observed more this year than ever before. The people have been seized with the spirit of joyful giving, and they are making the best of their opportunity to buy toys.

A great many customers are taking heed of the warning of the merchant to buy early, and as a result, the Christmas trade is already quite heavy.

WARN LOCAL MERCHANTS AGAINST CHECK FORGER

The police department notified local merchants and business men late Tuesday afternoon to be on the watch for forged checks upon receiving a telephone message from the chief of police of Waupun that Robert Gob-son, an ex-convict, was operating in neighboring cities.

The checks ranged all the way from $300 to $400 each and were made out and is described as having a dark complexion and dark hair. He is five eyed and wears a dark suit of clothes.

When the stomach becomes sour, with gassiness and heartburn due to indigestion or dyspepsia relief may be had by one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia

Tablets. Simply chew them, no hot water nor any other fillers for a stomach perhaps already too much over-

These tablets supply to the stomach the alkaline effect which is what relieves the sour acid condition. They also contain pancreatin to help digest
the starchy foods such as potatoes, rice, oatmeal, white flour, etc.

Get a 60 cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, have them on hand at all times and thus have no fear of indigestion or dyspepsia.

The fact that these tablets are on sale everywhere in the U. S. and Canada shows how generally recognized they are as an efficient aid when the dyspeptic stomach needs a little help.
